SO CLOSE YOU CAN TASTE IT

Hot cross buns, emerging beautiful and blooming from the oven, straight into impatient hands, made quickly sticky.

Breakfast, carefully brought to her in bed. Likely tea and toast, on the one day of the year where the tables are turned.

Proper loaves. Shared with loved ones at lengthy lunches, laden with tradition, marking brighter days ahead.

In spring we celebrate generous, gentle and uplifting food. Familiar favourites. Renewed for the season.

[illegible]

Simple yet delicious fare, lovingly crafted by hand. Fresh loaves for the table. Plentiful sandwiches. Cakes as light as their air of occasion. Savoured amid the symphony of cheersing glasses, happy chatter and tinkling teacups. With the warmth of companionship bringing everything together.

GET GOOD THINGS

Our Sharing Boxes are perfect for larger gatherings, filled with a range of savoury treats like our Mushroom & Caramelised Onion Quiche. Short, crumbly pastry filled with porcini, portobello and oyster mushrooms, Comté cheese, caramelised onions, and Dijon mustard in a savoury egg custard.

SANDWICHES ROOTED IN THE SEASON

The story goes that the sandwich found its origin with John Montagu, 4th Earl of Sandwich, who would request his salt beef between two pieces of bread, so as to keep his hands grease-free. A chance occurrence. A fortunate stroke of serendipity. Not unlike our plant-focussed menu of sandwiches.

Designed with flavour and ingredients in mind, they are plant-based by nature, not by necessity. When you stay connected to good food, plants are never far behind.

From our Mini Avocado and Chickpea Sandwiches, to our Roasted Spiced Cauliflower Sandwiches, root your lunchtime ritual in the flavours of the season this January.

Look out for plant-based labels or speak to a team member at your local bakery for further details.

POP IN TODAY

BREAD

Find pleasure in the daily ritual of freshly baked bread, with our plant-based sourdoughs. Seeded, dark or white, each loaf takes 48 hours to make and bake, and is yours to enjoy at leisure, dunked in soup or spread with jam. However you like it.
